How wonderful that you've found your way here! I am incredibly happy about your interest in my work. Because I love weddings—in all their facets. With all the emotions, with all the ups and downs. With everything that goes with it and, above all, with everything that makes you who you are.

Because that's how stories are created. Your story.

Your Day Your Story

Franzi + Max

Norderney, November 2022

„Dearest Anna,
we don't even know what to write... we are so incredibly grateful to you for capturing so many unforgettable and wonderful moments for us. The pictures are absolutely gorgeous, and we can't say enough how happy we are that we chose you and that we had you by our side on both of our special days. A thousand thanks, Anna. This day will never come again, but thanks to your photos, we can relive all the emotions, feelings, and many unique moments over and over again and have them all within reach forever. You can't imagine how valuable each and every photo is to us.“

Wedding Packages

When I accompany you on your big day, your individual needs are my top priority. You don't have to contort yourselves for me, because I want to portray you as you are. Without poses that don't feel real to you, but completely natural. I always move unobtrusively in the background and prefer to work in a documentary style. So I capture all the little moments in between, which in the end are the biggest ones anyway.

Every wedding is unique, and so are your needs and wishes when it comes to photographic coverage of your wedding ceremony. That's why I offer a range of packages that can be tailored to your specific requirements.

Authentic, intimate, and a touch of nostalgia.

All in one complete package

With the complete package, I capture your day as it feels—not just as it looks. For ten hours, I accompany you from the first nervous smile in the morning, through the quiet moments of the wedding ceremony, to the exuberant atmosphere on the dance floor.

In addition to digital photography, your memories will be captured on three rolls of 35mm film – with the special warmth and depth that only analog photography can provide. As an additional centerpiece, I will create a Super 8 highlight video (4–5 minutes) that captures the essence of your day in soft, flickering images: the trembling before saying “I do,” the first kiss as a married couple, the laughter of your loved ones.

The result is a timeless reportage that not only shows you what your day was like, but also lets you feel how it felt every time you watch it.

Would you like to celebrate a small but beautiful wedding? Are you getting married during the week and just want a short accompaniment? Then these packages might be just right for you. For shorter packages, I will accompany you to the wedding ceremony and afterwards we will definitely have time for a short couple shoot and group photos. The little moments, such as when your friends and family come to congratulate you, will of course also be captured.

* Micro can only be booked on weekdays from Monday to Thursday or during the off-season from November to the end of March.

A comprehensive wedding reportage covering the entire day, capturing your wedding ceremony and celebration with all its moments. Starting with the excitement in the morning, through the wedding ceremony, to the party atmosphere in the evening. A large wedding is an event that spans the entire day: In order to tell your whole story, capture all the events of the day, and take a relaxed moment for couple and group photos, a lot of time is simply necessary. This way, you can avoid the feeling that you have to rush through many items on your agenda. For this reason, you can book me for up to twelve hours.

Super 8 magic for your day

The footage captured by a Super 8 camera creates very special moving images of your big day. I have been fascinated by the style of this medium for ages, and I am incredibly happy to be able to offer you this analog format with all its imperfect but charming characteristics for your wedding. If you are as enthusiastic about the aesthetics of Super 8 films as I am, please feel free to contact me if you are interested.

A Super 8 kinda Wedding

Super 8 films have a timeless beauty that digital formats cannot achieve. When a roll of film runs through the camera, it creates a distinctive aesthetic: soft colors, graininess, and a warm, analog texture. These details ensure that your wedding day is captured not only in images, but also in emotions.

Mix it up? Let's do it!

A wedding film thrives on telling the story of the entire day—from the small, tender moments to the big emotions.

This is exactly where the combination of Super 8 and digital film elements unfolds its special effect. Super 8 gives your memories a warm, nostalgic touch. This analog film feel makes moments unique and creates an atmosphere that cannot be recreated with modern technology alone. Digital recordings, on the other hand, ensure razor-sharp images, clear colors, and the certainty that all the important scenes are captured.

Together, this creates a timeless film that tells the magic of your day in two languages: dreamy and lively, nostalgic and modern. So you get both – the emotional depth of analog and the versatility of digital.

I grew up with analog photography. My childhood photo albums are full of imperfect but perfect memories. Individual images that were never copied but are still deeply engraved in my memory—that's precisely why there's something magical about capturing all these precious moments in life in this way.

Elsa + Max

Münster, Juli 2024

„A huge compliment to Anna, our dear wedding photographer, who accompanied our civil wedding in July 2022. The photos are simply amazing. She has an eye for the extraordinary, is able to capture spontaneous emotions with great attention to detail, and does so in a natural and sometimes artistic way. Thanks to these enchanting pictures, we will be able to cherish the memories of this day forever. On top of that, the organization beforehand was also great, with helpful tips, a nice preliminary meeting, and a very pleasant atmosphere on the day itself. She is always present and provides subtle support on the big day, even when things get chaotic. And the first pictures arrived just one day after the wedding, which made us incredibly happy. Thank you so much for everything, dear Anna!“

Let's get to know each other

One thing that is particularly close to my heart: only do things because you want to. Don't let anyone dictate what you do and celebrate your love the way you want to. That's why things like accompanying you while you get ready or a first look are never fixed in my packages – we discuss what you want and need together in a preliminary meeting. Something I always like to offer—especially for longer shoots—is a get-to-know-you shoot. Why? Quite simply: you get to know my work behind the camera a little bit and can try out how you feel most comfortable in front of the camera. On top of that, you'll get some beautiful photos that you can use for save the date cards or invitations, for example.

This is your day,
so make it yours!

And what happens now?

Are you still interested in having me accompany you as your photographer? Then the next step is always a non-binding introductory meeting. This gives us a chance to discuss the most important things and clarify any open questions. And most importantly, you'll get a feel for whether I'm the right fit for you. After all, it's your big day, and the chemistry has to be right. I believe that photos, or rather being photographed, are something intimate. And there's nothing worse than not hitting it off with each other. That's why I think a personal meeting before making a binding booking is extremely important. If, after this meeting—and of course after a few days to think it over—you decide to book me, I will draw up an official contract that provides security for both you and me. Once I have received the signed contract, your date is then bindingly booked. Don't worry, you definitely don't need to have a detailed schedule for the day ready for this meeting. We will discuss together what kind of support you want or need, what your wedding should look like, and, above all, get to know each other.

Hey, I'm Anna, a photographer from Münster. I have a penchant for small details, subtle moments, and everything that often only becomes visible in retrospect through photography. I've had a camera with me for as long as I can remember, but it still took me a while to turn what I love so much into my profession. After studying marketing and PR and working in these fields, I am now fully self-employed and appreciate every opportunity I am given. Whether I'm photographing a wedding, a family, couples, or individuals.

Capturing emotions—those genuine moments—is exactly my thing. I love moments that no one would remember later without a photo. Whether it's a photo shoot or accompanying photo reportage – I always find natural, unposed, and authentic shots the most beautiful. When I'm not capturing all those feelings and people, I work with a talented friend for our joint creative agency, studio pp. As soon as I have some free time, you'll find me outside – on my road bike, running along the canal, or walking the dog through the woods.

During an introductory meeting, in addition to my online portfolio, you will have the opportunity to view entire galleries.

This will give you a feel for how I accompany and work on a wedding day. After all, not all impressions and moments end up in my publicly viewable portfolio. The right to have a say in what I am allowed to show and the privacy of my couples and their guests are my top priorities.
